This Man Fairchild

Editor, The State Journal—On July 8, 1952, the filing deadline for the primary election, the Wisconsin voters faced the following situation: Henry Heuss was running unopposed for the Democratic nomination for senate. No other major Democratic office was contested. Len Schmitt was running unopposed to McCarthy in the Republican primary. This was an ideal situation for the voters of this state who are not quick to express their party affiliations except in the secrecy of the voting booth to combine for the defeat of McCarthy.

It's Our Fight

Editor, The State Journal—The answer to some of you people who are always giving Joe McCarthy a tough time: You say he pulls the wrong guys over the carpet or is fairly naming someone as a Communist. Sure, once in a while so. But you never say he caught up to this guy or that one who was a Communist and no good for this country. If he is going to get rid of Communists for us, he is most apt to get a bad deal once in a while, or should be so, and let the Communist hold key positions and U.S. jobs and say nothing? Then he couldn't have seen the talk show, have left McCarthy and give our secrets to other nations. I am sure Joe McCarthy does not enjoy this job. He is surely doing a good job of it. This job can be a good one for us if we have good U.S. people and people to come. This is our fight and Joe is doing it for us. If we have whole White House of Joe McCarthy and Gen. MacArthur this United States would be somewhat better than it is today.

Lantern in the Face

Editor, The State Journal—If the voters of Wisconsin do not send Sen. McCarthy back to Washington it will be like throwing mud at Patrick Henry, shooting Paul Revere's horse, and pinning a rose on Benedict Arnold. Sen. McCarthy is the one and only member of the entire U.S. Senate who has had the courage, the pluck, guts to point to the subversives—just alone real Communist—in federal offices and in the Justice Department since he has been let out, resigned, or fired. Yet in spite of that and what these Democrats fear most is to again have McCarthy on their tails. As Victor Hugo once said: "What you least like is to have a lantern shined in toward you."—Cridley Adams, U.S. Flag Foundation, 370 First Ave., New York.

Horried at Kohler

Editor, The State Journal—This is an open letter to Gov. Walter Kohler, shooting down the idea of a Republican in my life—ever since I first voted in 1920. But I cannot stomach McCarthyism. That is why I am a Republican and I have never been a Democrat since I first voted in 1920. But I cannot stomach McCarthyism. That is why I am a Republican and I have never been a Democrat since I first voted in 1920. But I cannot stomach McCarthyism. That is why I am a Republican and I have never been a Democrat since I first voted in 1920.

It's Your Day - to Waste or Win for Your World

All the forecasts are for a record turnout of Wisconsin voters in today's primary election. If those forecasts come true, it will be a happy day—a day signifying that Wisconsin citizens take seriously the heavy responsibility that travels hand in hand with freedom.

The men and women The State Journal believes best qualified to serve you. Many readers tear out this list and carry it with them to the polls. But regardless of HOW you vote, be certain that you DO VOTE. Too busy? That alibi would sound a bit hollow to the young men fighting the Communists in Korea to protect the system that retains your privilege of voting. Can't find the time? We have no handy quotes from the prisoners who today lie helpless in Communist prisons, or are chained to their jobs in Soviet slave labor camps. But we'll suggest such quotes would make you ashamed.

into the hopper on the side of good government, the United States today very probably would be in the unholy mess from which we are trying to extricate ourselves. In most places, the polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. That is 13 hours. Remember, the voting today is in a primary, and not a general election. The voting today is for the purpose of allowing citizens of either Republican or Democratic political persuasion to nominate their party's candidates for the various offices. The primary election is an important part of our free system of self-government. Today is one day you—personally—have a chance to do something about your world. Vote as you please. But most important: Vote Today.

The Conspiracy Against Sen. Joe McCarthy

An Editorial from The Chicago Tribune. Something very like a conspiracy was unearthed before the senate subcommittee hearing Sen. Benton's demand that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin be expelled from the senate. Sen. McCarthy is the intended victim. From the facts that have been brought out, the conspiracy ought to fall flat. We don't think the people of Wisconsin are going to like what they hear.

out to "rel" Sen. McCarthy for a long time. It doesn't like the way he goes out after the Communists and fellow travelers in the New Deal. Fleming wrote Sen. Benton's man that he was distressed that Benton seemed to have chalked up "no sale" with the subcommittee in trying to persuade its members that McCarthy was bad medicine. The Milwaukee Journal writer suggested the subcommittee to bring pressure on the senator by composing the subcommittee to swing them around to the Benton view.

making propaganda against Sen. McCarthy. The Milwaukee Journal agent did not say. We think it's plain that he suggested that the Milwaukee Journal and its legal Fleming informed Benton's assistant that he hoped the letter would be kept confidential. In fact, he thought it would be better if it were destroyed upon reading.

What is to be inferred from this incident? First, that there is a cabal against McCarthy which will yield to no ethical restraint in its zeal to drive him from public office. If it can't get him out among the co-conspirators are the New Deal Sen. Benton, his office staff, the Milwaukee Journal, and from his testimony former Sen. Tydings of Maryland, who was defeated for reelection when he put his name to the report of a farcical investigation which attempted to whitewash the Truman administration after Sen. McCarthy had accused it of being under soviet influence.

The Tatler's Tale

Editor, The State Journal—In the Tatler's Tale of Sept. 1, 1952 there appears an editorial which is not marked "editorial," which is unsigned, and which occupies the entire middle column of the front page. The Tatler is supposed to be essentially non-political in nature and as the organ of the Mendocino County development association is dedicated to the welding together of our neighbors in an effort to improve community life. In the past this paper has welcomed frank criticism and rebuttal. Yet, only a few days before a primary election and several weeks before another edition could possibly carry an answer, this paper prints a controversial, biased, unethical manner concerning one of our candidates, namely Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

The Gravy?

Editor, The State Journal—Thoughtfully and with interest I read your editorial giving the reasons your paper supports Joseph McCarthy. About half way through and an urgent desire to vote for anyone else.

Cow and the Duck

Editor, The State Journal—Will someone please inform me why the development association is dedicated to the welding together of our neighbors in an effort to improve community life. In the past this paper has welcomed frank criticism and rebuttal. Yet, only a few days before a primary election and several weeks before another edition could possibly carry an answer, this paper prints a controversial, biased, unethical manner concerning one of our candidates, namely Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

Never Has, Never Will

Editor, The State Journal—Sen. McCarthy's personal record was poor. He has never turned up for a way to the public. He found a vacuum: Communists so he began fighting those few Communists and he won with loud speeches. He created the filthy illusion that he was keeping the government from being overrun by subversives. Then he would attack opponents by calling them Communists. I'm not saying cleaning out the Communists is wrong; far from it. McCarthy has never turned up a Communist, and he never will. David Starckweather, 1812 Waunona Way, Madison 8.

An Informed Vote

Editor, The State Journal—The voters of Wisconsin may become victims of the greatest political fraud in my generation. Charges have been met with vague countercharges and anti-Communism and anti-Communist "Smear" or "Communist Dupes." Some newspapers have supported him. Why? Either they are too stupid to discern the truth, or, knowing it, they do so because the good of the party means more than the good of the citizen. If you are a courageous few that have followed their consciences and as a result have been labeled "Dishonored Workers"—typical McCarthy as set forth above.

The Interests

Editor, The State Journal—You have withheld the real facts from the voters in Wisconsin in the battle for Sen. McCarthy's nomination. And I speak as a Republican, always, in my 50 odd years, who has never hesitated to state the truth when the occasion demands.

Yesterdays

(50 Years Ago—Sept. 9, 1903) The Soldiers' Memorial Hall Association is planning to erect a new building, but made no decision. (25 Years Ago—Sept. 9, 1927) If traffic congestion continues on State st., efforts will be made in the City Council, to have that street a one-way thoroughfare. (10 Years Ago—Sept. 9, 1942) Madison will have no more flat rate taxicabs if the City Council adopts a recommendation of its Ordinance committee.
